

Attendance Counts!

School Attendance

Brevard County School Board Policy states that “a student who is absent more than 9 days within a semester will not receive a passing grade”.

The only exceptions are:

Illness with a medical excuse (doctor’s note)
Chronic / extended illness (requires special form)
Religious holidays
Court appearances (requires documentation)

Please make every effort to get your children to school daily, and on-time. If they are too ill to come to school, please send in a parent or medical excuse upon their return.

Research shows a strong link between absences and lower achievement levels in reading and math, starting as early as kindergarten.

Teach your child the importance of a strong work ethic...which includes attendance and punctuality at their “job”. Good habits are easier to instill when a child is young!
